

HOLLARD STABLE FUND

OBJECTIVE

The Hollard Stable Fund is a South African long/short equity hedge fund. The fund has a strong focus on capital preservation, targeting an absolute return in excess of cash. The conservative, counter-cyclical nature of the fund could result in underperformance during equity bull markets, whilst outperforming in equity bear markets.

MANAGER'S COMMENTS

This month saw the pendulum swing and significant buying in equities again came to the fore, post the slump in April. World markets continued their upward trajectory in what can best be described as a bull market that nobody owns. Many of the themes that began to take shape in April continued into May but many of the large rotations began to slow down. As previously advocated we believe this rotation is a pause in a much larger bull market in the space that have recently sold off. The fund remains exposed to the higher growth sectors and we remain of the opinion that growth will triumph over value. Conditions seem benign with volatility trading at historical lows which is very bullish for equity and bond markets.

Naspers surged upwards by 14.7% after a very weak April, we had reduced our holding in the previous months but it still remains a core long in our investment thesis. Netcare, the hospital operator with considerable UK optionality finished up 13.1% for the month. Our short book contributed with the credit retailers and industrials underperforming along with our negative view of gold miners coming to the fore. We believe that gold is a non-core global asset and that any meaningful rallies should be shorted.

Investors still appear to be underweight equities and it seems many a market participant has been watching this rally from the sidelines. There is a distinct possibility of aggressive upward moves and this money finally capitulates and flows into the market. We remind investors however that in the world we find ourselves in individual sectors have very divergent prospects and we are moving our capital around to take advantage of where we see pockets of strength versus weakness.
