

Fund Managers Thoughts

The Capricorn SCI Equity fund outperformed the market and its benchmark in February gaining +1.0% while its SWIX benchmark declined (1.2%). February was an eventful month which saw Jacob Zuma's swift resignation and a consolidation of power by Cyril Ramaphosa which included a cabinet reshuffle. Even Capricorn who are bullish on South Africa were surprised by the speed and magnitude of the change. The All Share surprisingly traded backwards through the political reform as Naspers underperformed (-3.3%) and the property sector (-16.8%) was materially affected by the Resilient Group's decline. In line with our SA Inc. bias, the fund performed well in February as banks gained 9.5% in the month while general financials also performed well. First Rand, Massmart and The Foschini group were key gainers in the month which was in line with our SA Inc. focused portfolio.

Positioning Our Portfolio

Capricorn maintains its SA Inc. portfolio bias as we believe foreign investors continue to buy into the political reform while closing their underweight South Africa positions. We believe key catalysts lie ahead, with SA possibly avoiding a Moody's Credit Rating downgrade at the end of March. The SARB also indicated the potential for a rate cut at their next meeting, as inflation remains in their target range while political risks have substantially reduced since their last meeting.
